INCOME ELIGIBILITY

The City of Duluth's Youth Employment Service is a federally funded program. Federal guidelines state that to be eligible, participants must come from families whose income does not exceed the maximum allowed for the past 6 months prior to application.

A family means 2 or more persons related by blood, marriage, or decree of court, who are living in a single residence (includes temporary, voluntary residence elsewhere, i.e. attending college) and are included in one of more of the following categories: a husband, wife, and dependent children, or a parent or guardian and dependent children.

An individual who has a documented disability (including school IEP) is considered a "family of one" for income eligibility. The person does not have to include family's income, just his/her own income.

A foster child is a "family of one" for income eligibility.

Income that is not counted towards eligibility include: college financial assistance such as Pell Grants and Federal Work-Study, unemployment compensation, child support payments, tax refunds, loans, MFIP payments, Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

Income that is counted towards eligibility includes gross income, college scholarships that are not needs-based, Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI).

If family eligible for food stamps within the past 6 months, family is eligible regardless of income.

Family Size	Maximum eligible income for past 6 months
1	$5,415.00
2	$7,285.00
3	$9,440.00
4	$11,619.50
5	$13,711.00
